Columbus, O., Feb. 11.—(Special)—Attorney General Sheets said today that his department would take advantage of the offer of the Hocking Valley railroad to open the books of that corporation for inspection in the matter of the alleged combination between Ohio railroads and coal companies. those of the German and Italian Governments Will be Made to Conform With That Prepared by the English.

Washington, Feb 11.—Once more, presented his formal note of acceptance and it has been cabled to London. The clouds are clearing away from the Venezuelan situation and the prospects of an adjustment are growing bright. Great Britain's protocol has been finally accepted by Mr. Bowen for the German ultimatum was the result of a misunderstanding on the part of the German foreign office of certain steps in the negotiations here. Through the activity of the German Minister, Baron Speck von Sternberg, this point is being cleared up.

The Italian Ambassador's instructions are such that he can make little headway until he knows what is coming of the agreement. He then signed the German protocol.

RUSSIAN RESERVES

have Been Notified to Have Themselves in Readiness to Rejoin the Regiments.

Washington, Feb 11.—The rumors of mobilizing a large force of troops to the situation regarding the Balkans seem to know whether or not the German Emperor is prepared to defend the Sultan and incur the lasting enmity of Russia.

We have received similar pacific assurance from Turkish sources, but our own information is positive and specific that orders for the mobilization have been actually issued. This was three days ago. Our advices further show that the mobilization would affect 240,000 troops.

The Balkans are disposed to accept the assurance that Turkey has no other intention than to assist in curing the Balkans of the Turkish yoke. The Balkans are to be freed from the Turkish yoke.

A remarkable feature of the situation is the openness with which the Pan-Slavist agitators are planning a military and diplomatic campaign for expelling the Turks from the Balkans. It is assumed in all centers of Slav Palmer Oil Company.

Reads the Story of the Organization, Growth and Present Status of the Palmer Oil Company.

The recent purchase by a British syndicate for $775,000 of the outgrowth of a Fostoria company, in which 16 men invested $150 apiece, makes the story of the organization, growth, and present status of the Palmer Oil company of this city, says a dispatch from Fostoria, read like a modern romance.

In March, 1886, in the early days of the oil and gas era in Northwestern Ohio, the Palmer Oil company was organized in Fostoria and incorporated by the state. There were 16 men in the company and each of them deposited the modest sum of $150 in a common fund to be employed in leasing and developing oil territory in the neighboring counties of Wood and Hancock. Fourteen years later the company sold the bulk of its holdings to the Exchange Oil company for $300,000 and had property left. The company today possesses the valuable rest due, and most of its members are men of large private wealth. Curiously enough, it still has the original officers.

Bought Out the Palmer Company. The Exchange Oil company was formed for the purpose of acquiring the interests of the Palmer Oil company, and was composed of capitalists distinct from the Palmer. At the time of the sale some said they paid too much for the Palmer product while others said that the price was too low, while still others thought the price fair to both buyers and sellers. Mark the sequel.

It was announced on Monday and confirmed Wednesday that the British Petroleum and Construction company (Limited) of London, England had bought out the Exchange Oil company for the enormous sum of $775,000.

It is fair to state that the Exchange company, while developing the purchase of the Palmer Oil company property has also materially added to it by collateral investments. But the Palmer Oil company, nevertheless, is the nucleus of the bargain which the British brother came over the seas to annex.

When the Palmer Oil company was organized in March, 1886 its membership embraced 16 men. Among them were and are Andrew Emerine, president, C. E. Palmer, treasurer, M. C. Briggs, secretary, W. A. Jones, field superintendent, all of Fostoria. M. L. Palmer of Toledo and Wesley Leathers, of Bairdstown, were two more while the remainder of the 16 men were either Toledo or New York men who were either related by family or previous business connection with those mentioned, all being men of means.

Its Modest Capital. The members of the Palmer Oil company relied most upon a plan that should involve the risking of the comparatively small capital of $2,400 in the new and hazardous industry, then regarded as more speculative than certain and the practice of principles of business that were at once conservative, long sighted and progressive.

Accordingly they went into the field and acquired leases in territory just near enough to productive wells to be able to turn over all of them to the oil companies.

Oil Came in Rivers. The Palmer Oil company was not organized to properly market gas and wisely adhered to its original policy of being an oil company. The next year they abandoned what was unquestionably gas territory and went north westward. An arrangement was made with the Northwestern Ohio Natural Gas Company a branch of the Standard Oil company which then had its headquarters here whereby the latter took over all the gas wells drilled by the Palmer, allowing the latter compensation for the expense of completing the well and the gas company in turn agreed to turn over all oil wells of its drilling to the Palmer on the same terms.

General News of the

The first section of the Columbus municipal interurban special ran into a C. H. & D. train about a half mile east of Dayton, yesterday. The collision resulted in overturning a box car of the C. H. & D. and derailing car No. 43 of the C. L. & S. The only person injured seriously was Emil Schmidt, president of the city council of Bellaire, who was a guest of the Columbus party. He sustained a bad wound of the left leg above the knee. The accident delayed the Columbus delegation.

Good Day's Work.
 The Pennsylvania moved nearly 1,000 cars of freight out of Crestline Sunday, and the day's traffic was one of the most notable on record. The yards were congested by the heavy inflow of cars the night before but by midnight the yards had been pretty well cleared, and incoming freight was handled without inconvenience or undue rushing. One of the remarkable facts in connection with the day's business is that the congestion was relieved without in any way interfering with the movement of the passenger trains. Every passenger train was on time, and still the freights moved without a hitch. The night trainmaster and the dispatcher were kept pretty busy, but so well was their work done that the regularity of the trains and the prevention of possible blockades made things move as if there were no unusual demands upon the company's resources.—Pt. Wayne Journal.

Testing Water Purifier.
 Pennsylvania engine 7156 is in the shop, having her boiler tubes drawn for the purpose of noting the effect of the Talma water purifying system, which has been used on this engine for the past six months. Mr. Talma, the inventor of the system, is here and witnessed the examination of the interior of the boiler. While the experiment may not have resulted entirely satisfactory to the inventor and the railway officials, the good effects were noticeable in the character of the deposits on flues and boiler. The lime was less dense and more easily removed. In fact, it lacked that tenacity which characterizes the lime deposits of this section of the country when no agency is at work to soften them. The lime scale was easily removed from the flues of this engine—in fact, a good portion of the deposit dropped off when the flues were pulled from the boiler. Engine 7156 has been in constant use on the western division of the road during the six months the test was in progress, which is about the usual time of service between such cleaning out of boilers as she is getting today. This section of country—northern Indiana and Ohio—has the worst water for steam purposes of any along the line of the Pennsylvania railways and it is on this account that experiments in a purifying way are being made.—Pt. Wayne Journal.

Will Bridge East River.
 A dispatch from Pittsburg says: Official announcement of the building of the new bridge across the east river at Hell Gate, New York, by the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., was made public last night by Col. Joseph U. Crawford, engineer of the branch lines of the Pennsylvania system. It will require about three years to complete the work. The bridge and its approaches will be two miles long. The central span will be 840 feet in length. The bridge will be erected 135 feet above the water. It will extend from Port Morris, Harlem, to Randall's Island; thence towards Ward's Island, and from that point to Long Island, where the Pennsylvania lines will be connected with the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad. This connection will form a direct line between the New England and middle western states.

The New Wage Schedule.
 The committee representing the engineers and firemen and the C. H. & D. officials had about reached an agreement yesterday regarding the new schedule of wages. Grand Chief Arthur, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, was here yesterday to take part in the conference. The new agreement, it was thought, might be signed last evening and at any rate not later than today.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

ONLY A SUGGESTION.
 But it has proven of interest and value to thousands.

Common sense would suggest that if one wishes to become fleshy and plump it can only result from the food we eat and digest and that food should be albuminous or flesh forming food, like eggs, beefsteak and cereals; in other words the kinds of food that make flesh are the foods which form the greater part of our daily bills of fare.

But the trouble is that while we eat enough and generally too much, the stomach, from abuse and overwork, does not properly digest and assimilate it, which is the reason so many people remain thin and under weight; the digestive organs do not completely digest the flesh forming beefsteak and eggs and similar wholesome food.

There are thousands of such who are really confirmed dyspeptics, although they may have no particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs.

If such persons would lay their prejudices aside and make a regular practice of taking, after each meal one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the food would be quickly and thoroughly digested, because these tablets contain the natural peptones and diastase which every weak stomach lacks and by supplying this want the stomach is soon enabled to regain its natural tone and vigor.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest every form of flesh-forming food, meat eggs, bread and potatoes and this is the reason they so quickly build up, strengthen and invigorate thin, dyspeptic men, women and children.

Invalids and children even the most delicate, use them with marked benefit as they contain no strong, irritating drugs, no cathartic nor any harmful ingredient.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the most successful and most widely known of any remedy for stomach troubles because it is the most reasonable and scientific of modern medicines.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by every druggist in the United States and Canada as well as in Great Britain at 50 cents for complete treatment.

Nothing further is required to cure any stomach trouble or to make thin, dyspeptic people strong, plump and well.

The occasion was the twelfth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hagerman, of 681 south Elizabeth street. Mr. Hagerman and his wife were invited to the Wilson home to spend the evening and when they arrived were greatly and agreeably surprised to find a large number of guests assembled to welcome them and to felicitate them upon their wedding anniversary. Recovering from their surprise the celebrants acknowledged the congratulations and joined in the evening's festivities. All present entered into the spirit of the occasion which was productive of much pleasure. Various amusements were indulged in and the evening was enlivened by many pleasant features. # A GREAT SUCCESS IS OUR MONSTER MILL REMNANT SALE.

Like a tidal wave the eager crowds engulfed the store yesterday for the opening, but both the doors were closed. Every nook and corner was a seething mass of eager and appreciative buyers. Myriads of thrifty shoppers are saving thousands of dollars on the best and most mercifully merchandise every offered the buying public. We can state conservatively this great sale has never been equalled in this country, to us. All day business literally hummed. By noon the crowds were so large that we were unable to give them the attention they would receive under ordinary conditions. You know the character of this sale. Every remnant in this collection is of the highest grade, and the colors whether in plain or fancy blendings and combinations, are the very newest and most popular that fashion makes desirable. We are resolute and unchanged, in our policy, to bring any quality that fails to rank with the best. Another fact for you to keep in mind: Everything that is rolled, bunched, carded, papered, spooled and boxed is warranted full measure. We stand between you and every risk--the same now as always. All prices quoted are less than jobber's prices, therefore they are very much below our regular prices, and our regular prices are invariably lower than those of any competitor.

LOOK FOR THE GREEN TICKETS.

The Green Tickets signify true bargains--bargains such as you have never had an opportunity of securing. We simply ask you to follow the crowds--all shoppers are wending their way toward this great bargain center. Come prepared to take away great loads of these unheard-of bargains for when you once see the offers we place before you you will understand that to pass it by means throwing away your money.

Don't Think This Price List Covers All the Bargains--It is Meant to Convey to You But a Hint.

A SOUTHERN BELLE.

A beautiful Georgia Girl, Vice-President of the East End Palmetto Club, of Savannah, and prominent socially there, relates the following experience:

You certainly have produced the finest medicine for suffering women that there is to be had in the country. I want to recommend it especially to mothers. I was seventeen years old when my darling boy was born. Felt very exhausted and weak for a long time, and it seemed I could not get my strength back. My sister-in-law bought me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription (after I had tried several of the other remedies which

Tendency of the Times.

The tendency of medical science is toward preventive measures. The best thought of the world is being given to the subject. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. It has been fully demonstrated that pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with can be prevented by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of influenza (croup), and it has been observed that this remedy contracts any tendency of these diseases toward pneumonia. This has been fully proven in many thousands of cases in which this remedy has been used, during the great prevalence of colds and grip in recent years, and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. Pneumonia often results from a slight cold when no danger is apprehended, until it is suddenly discovered that there is fever and difficulty in breathing and pains in the chest. Then it is too late. The patient is pneumonia. He is on the safe side and takes Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the cold is contracted. It always cures. For sale by Wm. M. Melville, old post office corner.

Your daughter is a great help in your household work, isn't she? Yes. She stays away from home so much—Brooklyn Life.

I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a number of years and have no hesitancy in saying that it is the best remedy for coughs, colds and grip I have ever used in my family. I have not words to express my confidence in this remedy. Mrs. J. A. Moore, North Star, Mich. For sale by Wm. M. Melville, old post office corner.

Mrs. SUSIE WILLIAMS.
To Dr. R. V. Pierce.

O

There is No Beauty Like the Beauty of Health.

Nothing encourages beauty of face and form so much as a healthy body. Very much depends on the condition of the organs peculiar to women.

These should perform their functions regularly and be free from those weakening influences so often connected with life in the city.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, after making a specialty of woman's diseases, finally found a prescription, whose ingredients were entirely of vegetable origin, which had a marvelous effect on the organs peculiar to women. He found it also had a good tonic effect on the whole system; this he used in his private practice with such favorable results that he finally decided to put it up in "patent medicine" form some thirty-five years ago, and since that time it has enjoyed the largest sale of any medicine put up for women only. It is entirely vegetable, and Dr. Pierce gives his absolute guarantee that it contains no alcohol, opium or other harmful narcotics. The trouble with many tonics put up for the public is that they depend upon alcohol for their stimulating effect; this is something Dr. Pierce has always felt was bad practice, harmful and a poor business policy, if not absolutely wrong.

The Sisters of the Good Shepherd, at their convent, "Our Lady of the Woods," Carthage, O., use a great deal of Dr. Pierce's medicines; they say, in a recent letter to Dr. Pierce:

"We beg to assure you of the great benefit these medicines give our ailing ones. We cannot sufficiently recommend their excellence."

"Favorite Prescription" cures the womanly diseases which undermine the general health, which make the eyes and cheeks hollow and the body thin. Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, in strict confidence. Address Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.

YOU CAN get a copy of Doctor Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1908 pages, FREE, by sending stamps to pay expense of mailing ONLY. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound volume, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers.

AN ELUSIVE BONANZA

THE STORY OF THE LOST LODE OF GORE RANGE.

How a Tenderfoot Accidentally Discovered This Wonderful Bank of Gold and Why He Didn't Enjoy the Richness Thereof.

They were telling mining stories in the courthouse, and Dee Reese, the
lawyer, asked:

"Did you ever hear of the lost lode of the Gore range?"

The other lawyers sitting around him said they had never heard of it and then waited for him to begin. Mr.
Reese borrowed a fresh chew of tobacco and told this story:

"Hundreds of experienced and inexperienced miners as well have spent a great deal of time and money looking for the lost lode of the Gore range, and they are searching for it yet.

This famous mine was found and lost in the fall of 1886. A party of men from Iowa visited Routt county, Colo., in the fall of 1886 on a hunting and fishing trip. The party made its headquarters at Steamboat Springs.
In the latter part of October the party moved up and went into camp on Rock creek, in the Gore range of mountains, which runs through northern Colorado. One of the party was a druggist, who had gone on the trip for his health. He knew nothing of mining. He had been warned by an old miner before he left town not to be fooled, as many a tenderfoot had been fooled by what is known as 'fool's gold,' or iron pyrites. So this druggist paid no attention to the rocks, but attended strictly to his hunting and fishing.

"One afternoon while hunting for deer he started a fine buck and tired at him and wounded him. The buck fell but got up and ran before the druggist could get to him. Where he fell was a pool of blood, which showed that he was badly wounded. The hunter trailed him by the blood spots on the dead leaves and grass for a mile and there found where the buck had lain down and then rising had gone again. In this way the chase continued until sundown, and then the hunter, who was exhausted, sat down on an outcropping ledge of rocks to rest.

"In the enthusiasm of the chase he had not noted which way he traveled, and he realized that he was lost in the heavily timbered mountains, with night coming on. He knew it would be useless to try and find the camp that night, so he gathered a pile of dead limbs and kindled a fire against the ledge of rocks and laid down with his feet to the blaze and prepared to sleep. While lying there he noticed the old man paused to muse.

"Do you know," he said, breaking
into his own reverie explosively, "Feb.
23 is a date dreaded by many of the capital night guards? It was on this day, in 1848, that John Quincy Adams died in the chamber of the house of representatives, now Statuary hall, where the exact spot is marked by a brass tablet.
Promptly at midnight on every anniversary of his death the shade of John Quincy Adams appears in a sort of phosphorescent glow over this brass tablet. Oh, dozens of guards have seen it from time to time as well as I, and I can refer you to many of them for confirmation of my assertions.

"Once over the spot the shade begins to gesticulate, after the manner of a member addressing the house. Then all of a sudden, the fine face becomes distorted and agonized, the gracefully waving arms fall convulsively, and down sinks the shade with all the movements of an expiring man. Then the phosphorescent glow fades away,
and the ethereal effigy dissolves.

"But, although lost sight of, its presence is still made known by the 'clump, clump, clump,' of invisible foot-falls departing down one of the long vacant corridors.

"The druggist, whose name I have forgotten, said in Denver for a few days on his way to his home in Iowa in the lobby of a hotel in Denver the talk drifted to mining, and the druggist mentioned the specimens of stone he had found and was taking home.
An old miner never misses a chance to examine a specimen and to this group in the hotel lobby was an old prospector.
He asked to be shown the specimens. The druggist went to his room, fished up the old hunting coat from the bottom of his trunk and took out the piece of stone. The miner examined it closely and exclaimed:

"Man, that's the richest specimen of gold bearing quartz I have ever seen!"

The druggist thought at first that he was being joked with, but at last the old miner induced him to take the specimens to Burlingame, the best assayer in Denver. Burlingame assayed a piece of the quartz and reported that it yielded gold at the rate of $17,000 to the ton. The druggist was not satisfied.
He submitted another piece of the quartz to another expert assayer and got a report that yielded gold at the rate of $15,000 to the ton.

The druggist returned at once to Steamboat Springs, but there was snow in the mountains. He went back to Iowa and returned to the Gore range the next spring and spent every summer since then looking for the lost lode, and others have searched for it, too, but no trace of it has been found."

A SOUTHERN BELLE.

A beautiful Georgia Girl, Vice-President of the East End Palmetto Club, of Savannah, and prominent socially there, relates the following experience:

You certainly have produced the finest medicine for suffering women that there is to be had in the country. I want to recommend it especially to mothers. I was seventeen years old when my darling boy was born. Felt very exhausted and weak for a long time, and it seemed I could not get my strength back. My sister-in-law bought me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription (after I had tried several of the other remedies which

Mrs. SUSIE WILLIAMS.
To Dr. R. V. Pierce.

There is No Beauty Like the Beauty of Health.

Nothing encourages beauty of face and form so much as a healthy body. Very much depends on the condition of the organs peculiar to women. These should perform their functions regularly and be free from those weakening influences so often connected with life in the city.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, after making a specialty of woman's diseases, finally found a prescription, whose ingredients were entirely of vegetable origin, which had a marvelous effect on the organs peculiar to women. He found it also had a good tonic effect on the whole system; this he used in his private practice with such favorable results that he finally decided to put it up in "patent medicine" form some thirty-five years ago, and since that time it has enjoyed the largest sale of any medicine put up for women only. It is entirely vegetable, and Dr. Pierce gives his absolute guarantee that it contains no alcohol, opium or other harmful narcotics. The trouble with many tonics put up for the public is that they depend upon alcohol for their stimulating effect; this is something Dr. Pierce has always felt was bad practice, harmful and a poor business policy, if not absolutely wrong.

The Sisters of the Good Shepherd, in their convent, "Our Lady of the Woods," Carthage, O., use a great deal of Dr. Pierce's medicines; they say, in a recent letter to Dr. Pierce: "We beg to assure you of the great benefit these medicines give our ailing ones. We cannot sufficiently recommend their excellence."

"Favorite Prescription" cures the womanly diseases which undermine the general health, which make the eyes and cheeks hollow and the body thin. Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, in strict confidence. Address Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.

Why don't you write an American novel? I have thought of it, answered the literatus, but was deterred by the fact that I could not decide whether to make the hero an Englishman, a Frenchman or a German.

Tendency of the Times.

The tendency of medical science is toward preventive measures. The best thought of the world is being given to the subject. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. It has been demonstrated that pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with can be prevented by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of influenza, and it has been observed that this remedy counteracts any tendency of these diseases toward pneumonia. This has been fully proven in many thousands of cases in which this remedy has been used.

During the great prevalence of colds and grip in recent years, and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. Pneumonia often results from a slight cold when no danger is apprehended until it is suddenly discovered that there is fever and difficulty in breathing and pain in the chest. Then it is discovered that the patient has pneumonia. He can be safe and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the cold is contracted. It always cures. For sale by Wm. M. Melville, old post office, C. B. 6.

GORE RANGE.

Now a Tenderfoot Accidentally Discovered This Wonderful Bank of Gold and W<sup>h</sup>o He Didn't Enjoy the Richness Thereof.

They were telling mining stories in the courthouse, and Dee Reese, the
lawyer, asked.

"Did you ever hear of the lost lode of the Gore range?"

The other lawyers sitting around
him said they had never heard of it
and then waited for him to begin. Mr.
Reese hurried a fresh chew of tobacco
and told this story:

"Hundreds of experienced and inexperienced miners as well have spent
a great deal of time and money looking
for the lost lode of the Gore range, but they are searching for it yet.
Thus far our mine was found and lost in the fall of 1896. A party of men from Iowa visited Routt county, Colo.
in the fall of 1896 on a hunting and fishing trip. The party made its headquarters at Steamboat Springs.
In the latter part of October the party
moved up and went into camp on Rock creek, in the Gore range of
mountains which runs through northern Colorado. One of the party was
a druggist, who had gone on the trip
for his health. He knew nothing of
old miner before he left Iowa not to be fooled, as many a tenderfoot had been by what is known as fool's gold, or iron pyrites. So this druggist paid no
attention to the rocks, but attended
strictly to his hunting and fishing.

"One afternoon while hunting for deer he started a big buck and fired at him and wounded him. The buck fell
but got up and ran before the druggist
could get to him. Where he fell was a pool of blood which showed that he was badly wounded. The hunter trailed
him by the blood spots on the dead
leaves and grass for a mile and there
found where the buck had lain down and then rising had gone on again. In this way the chase continued until sundown and then the hunter, who was exhausted, set down on an outcropping ledge of rocks to rest.
The old man paused to muse.

"Do you know," he said, breaking
into his own reverie explosively, "Feb.
23 is a date dreaded by many of the capitol night guards?" It was on this day in 1849 that John Quincy Adams
died in the chamber of the house of representatives, now Statuary hall, where the exact spot is marked by a brass tablet. Promptly at midnight on every anniversary of his death the shade of John Quincy Adams appears in a sort of phosphorescent glow over this brass tablet. Oh, dozens of guards
have seen it from time to time as well as I, and I can refer you to many of them for affirmation of my assertions.

"One over the spot the shade begins to gesticulate after the manner of a member addressing the house. Then,
all of a sudden the fine face becomes distorted and agonized, the gruesomely wriggling arms full of contortions and down sinks the shade with all the movements of an expiring man. Then
the phosphorescent glow fades away,
and the ethereal effigy dissolves.

"But, although lost sight of, its presence is still made known by the clump, top clump, top of invisible foot-falls departing down one of the long
vacant corridors.

"Stranger than this is the ghost of the entire congress of 1849, which appears in vigorous if spooky session eventually in a while in Statuary hall, the old hall of representatives, as I have previously remarked. Inaudible, but spirited, are the debates, energetic to the bursting point of vehemence are the silent political dissensions. Provoked by a doubting Thomas, a member of the capitol night watch several years ago made affidavit that he had seen this ghostly congress in session.
Yes, he was a sober man and true.

"The druggist thought at first that he was being joked with but at last
the old miner induced him to take the specimens to Burlington, the best assayer in Denver. Burlington assayed a piece of the quartz and reported that it yielded gold at the rate of $17,000 to the ton. The druggist was not satisfied.
He submitted another piece of
the quartz to another expert assayer and got a report that it yielded gold at the rate of $15,000 to the ton.

"The druggist returned at once to Steamboat Springs, but there was snow in the mountains. He went back to Iowa and returned to the Gore range the next spring and has spent every summer since then looking for the lost lode, and others have searched for it,
too, but no trace of it has been found."

The weighing of infants, a part of the routine in children's hospitals and of the greatest value as an indicator of health or disease, is unfortunately not so common as it should be in private families. Dr. Graham, discussing a paper by Dr. Gill at the Philadelphia Pediatric society says: "The rule that a child has double its birth weight at the fifth month and triple at from the twelfth to the fourteenth month makes a very good and useful working record."

NATIONAL PHANTOMS

GHOSTS THAT HAUNT THE UNITED STATES CAPITOL

A Story of Specters That Stalk at Night When the Halls of Legislation Are Gloomy and Deserted, as Told by One of the Old Guards.

Like most repositories of good stories, the ancient man who has spent decades as a guard in the capitol in Washington did not yield up the fullness of his narrative riches without a struggle.
"It's unpleasant to be made a mock of by the skeptical," he protested. "Do you believe in ghosts, young man?"

"If answering in the affirmative begets an interesting tale, I do," returned the writer.

"Well, starting on the premise that you do believe to some extent in the supernatural, I will admit you to my confidence," resumed the old guard, and here goes for the authentic yarn of the spooks that haunt the nation's capitol:

"In the long, monotonous watches of the night innumerable are the spooks, hobgoblins and the eerie, vapory things which slide from the shadowy nooks and crannies of the inimitable nothere to people the capitol's vast stretches of darkness. Of course you know of the extraordinary acoustic freaks which obtain in many parts of the great building—how a whisper, a breathless word at one particular point is audible at another scores of feet distant? Yes, now, at night these acoustic spirits simply go mad. Where they by day were pygmies they expand into giants, and a whistle, a sudden sound, a footfall, resolves itself into a pandem-monium.

"Weird, terrifying noises beat upon the eardrums of the watchmen as they pursue their lonely patrols through the seemingly miles of corridors, and then the spooks, the shades of the nation's great, the astral bodies of those that toiled in obscurity for the nation's good, dodge the watchmen's step, some grand and awful in their speechlessness, dignity, some creeping humbly about in apologetic silence, some laughing some sobbing, but all of them horrible —horrible."

The old man paused to muse.

"Do you know," he said, breaking
into his own reverie explosively, "Feb.
23 is a date dreaded by many of
